

Akiyoshidai Plateau Akiyoshido Cave Map

Akiyoshidai Plateau

Guide to the Adventure Route

The route takes you up the cave from the left side of the Aotenjo area near the front entrance. Put the admission charge in the box and enter with a flashlight. Though the distance is short, you can experience the feeling of an exciting adventure, as you go up ladders and pass through limestone stalactites. It is open to the paying public as long as the water level in the cave is not too high.

Adventure route admission

Akiyoshido Cave admission + ¥300 for both adults and children. Flashlights are available to rent. The route takes about 20 minutes to explore.

| Legend |  |  |  |
|--------|--|--|--|
|        | Public restrooms                           |  | Parking  |
|        | Parking for the disabled                   |  | Bus stop   |
|        | Restroom for the disabled                  |  | Public facility                                      |
|        | Wheelchair rental                          |  | Taxi stand   |
|        | Hospital                                   |  | Electric car rapid charger                           |
|        | Steep incline                              |  | Area accessible by wheelchair (accompanied by carer) |
|        | School                                     |  | Small steps  |
|        | Promenade                                  |  | Tunnel   |
|        | City operated parking lot (¥400 per entry) |  | Shrine   |
|        | National Route 435                         |  | Gasoline station                                     |
|        | Prefectural road 32                        |  | Traffic lights                                       |
|        | Accommodation                              |  |  |

Advice for wheelchair users

Accompanied by a carer, you can view up to Hyakumaizara from the front entrance of the cave. Please proceed carefully as the slope from the entrance is quite steep.

